The Eternal Day:

Never Fall

By Dan Maines

The Eternal Day: Where Night Will Never Fall

Zechariah 14:6-9

In that day there will be no light, the luminaries will dwindle. For it will be a unique day which is known to the Lord, neither day nor night, but it will come about that at evening time there will be light. And in that day living waters will flow out of Jerusalem, half of them toward the eastern sea and the other half toward the western sea; it will be in summer as well as in winter. And the Lord will be king over all the earth; in that day the Lord will be the only one, and His name the only one.

† Zechariah foresaw the day of the Lord that would bring the end of darkness and the rise of eternal light.

† The fading luminaries symbolize the fading glory of the old covenant order, while the new light represents the glory of Christ's kingdom.

† "At evening time there will be light" means that even when the old world reached its end, the dawn of the new would shine.

† The living waters flowing from Jerusalem symbolize the Spirit, spreading life to all nations under Christ's reign.

John 8:12

Then Jesus again spoke to them, saying, "I am the Light of the world; he who follows Me will not walk in the darkness, but will have the Light of life."

† Jesus identified Himself as the true Light that Zechariah foretold.

† Those who followed Him stepped out of the night of the law into the day of grace.

† The "Light of life" is not temporary but eternal, never fading or dimming.

† His presence ended the spiritual night that ruled from Adam to the cross.

Isaiah 60:19-20

No longer will you have the sun for light by day, nor for brightness will the moon give you light; but you will have the Lord for an everlasting light, and your God for your glory. Your sun will no longer set, nor will your moon wane; for you will have the Lord for an everlasting light, and the days of your mourning will be over.

† Isaiah used cosmic language to describe the new covenant reality, the Lord Himself becomes the everlasting light.

† The "sun" and "moon" symbolize the fading systems of priesthood and temple worship, replaced by the eternal light of Christ.

† "Your sun will no longer set" reveals the permanence of this new day, it will never fade into darkness again.

† The days of mourning are over because death and separation were conquered at the cross.

Revelation 21:23-25

And the city has no need of the sun or of the moon to shine on it, for the glory of God has illumined it, and its lamp is the Lamb. The nations will walk by its light, and the kings of the earth will bring their glory into it. In the daytime (for there will be no night there) its gates will never be closed.

† John saw the eternal fulfillment of Isaiah's vision, the New Jerusalem filled with unending light.

† The Lamb Himself is the lamp; His glory is the light of the new creation.

† There is no night there because the covenant of light has no interruption or end.

† The open gates signify continual fellowship, access, and life in the presence of God.

Malachi 4:2

But for you who fear My name, the sun of righteousness will rise with healing in its wings; and you will go forth and skip about like calves from the stall.

† Christ is the "sun of righteousness," rising with healing and freedom.

† The dawn of His kingdom brought restoration to all who were captive under sin.

† The imagery of sunrise signifies the end of the night, the transition from law to life.

† The joy of this rising never fades because His reign has no sunset.

Psalm 36:9

For with You is the fountain of life; in Your light we see light.

† The psalmist recognized the source of all illumination and life in God Himself.

† To see light in His light means to understand truth, purpose, and eternity through Christ.

† This light is not external but inward, the Spirit's illumination that never leaves the believer.

† The eternal day is experienced now within those who live in His presence.

How it applies to us today

† We are living in the eternal day where night can never return.

† The darkness of ignorance, fear, and separation has been banished by the Light of the world.

† The everlasting light is not coming, it is here, shining in the hearts of all who belong to Christ.

† The Church lives in perpetual daylight, the proof that redemption is complete.

† There will never be another sunset, for the Lord Himself is our everlasting light.
